

We're bringing the

ZOO TO YOU!

TIGERS

SNEAKY STRIPES

Tigers have a pair of fake eyes! All tigers have a circle of white fur on the backs of their ears. This circle marking is called an eyespot, and is meant to look like a second set of eyes. Eyespots have multiple purposes including helping young tiger cubs follow their mother through tall grass and bushes, and also acting to intimidate other animals by making it appear as though the tiger can see in all directions at once!

Learn to draw a tiger and their special stripes!